

Tyson and Julie

Dear Birth Parents,

We first want to thank you for choosing adoption; we understand how hard this choice was for you and believe that it is a very courageous choice. We also want to thank you for considering us to be the potential adoptive parents of your child. We are very excited about the possibility of being chosen, and want to ensure you that we are both emotionally and financially stable to raise a child. We have a very loving and caring family and friends that are just as excited as we are for our family to grow.

We have been married for four years, and after trying to have a child biologically we discovered we had fertility problems. We had already discussed adoption from the beginning of our marriage since I (Julie) was adopted. I understand that there are a lot of emotions involved on both sides of an adoption and we feel confident in our ability to provide the same loving atmosphere I was given as an adopted child.

We assure you that any child placed in our home will receive all the love and attention that two parents could possibly give. This child will be surrounded by grandparents, aunts, uncles, and cousins, all along with many close friends. We will bring this child up in an environment where they will always feel loved and provided for. Through my experience, we know what a blessing adoption is, and look forward to sharing that blessing with a child of our own.

We are ready to do whatever we can to make this decision easier for you.

Sincerely,

Tyson and Julie

Views on Adoption

We believe adoption is the most precious gift a birth parent can give. It's a courageous decision to allow someone to help give a child a better life. We are honored to be part of that process as well. We believe in always being open and honest and sharing the adoption story with our child. We also know how important it is to portray the birth parents with respect for the gift they have given in our lives. We are willing to meet, share letters and pictures yearly.

I am supportive, outgoing and I have a good sense of humor. I am currently an art student and work as a tire technician. Obviously, I love art, but also enjoy outdoor activities, and spending time with family and friends.

Hello, I am giving, outgoing, thoughtful and level-headed. I enjoy reading, working out, outdoor activities, and spending time with family and friends. I am a nurse.

We attend church on a regular basis. The church has a wonderful program for children. We believe a strong faith is an important foundation in our lives. We have many friends that always attend church along with our God children.

Views on Parenting, Education and Discipline

First and foremost, we believe in providing our child with unconditional love. Our child will always know we love them and are proud of them no matter what. This basis of love will help us provide a united front when discipline is necessary. We know when it comes to discipline consistency is the key and positive reinforcement is always important. We also believe education is vital. We hope our own paths in education will provide a strong model for our child. We will always encourage and support them as they choose their own paths.
