

Brian & Melissa

Thanks for taking the time to view our profile. The journey you are about to embark on cannot be described. We won't attempt to imagine the roller coaster of emotions that you are going through, but we will say this, you are going to make the right choice. You are already thinking of the wellbeing of your child before your feelings and already making sacrifices to ensure the prosperity of life that hasn't even taken its first breath.

We are a diverse bunch with different backgrounds but all of us are filled with love and kindness. We have two beautiful girls and they are very excited about being big sisters.

Due to complications conceiving, we are looking to show love to a child that needs us. Melissa is adopted and Brian has five adopted siblings so we are no strangers to adoption. Both of our families are also excited and ready to receive a blessing in the form of a beautiful baby. Our parents are excited to be grandparents and hold a new grand child, and our sisters and brothers are looking forward to playing with and spoiling a new baby. This child will be surrounded by a loving and caring family.

Views on Adoption

Both of our families are very familiar with adoption. Melissa is adopted and all of Brian's siblings are adopted. We have a good understanding of how it feels to be adopted. We will let our child know that he or she is adopted as soon as they can understand that concept. We want our child to know that they were loved very much. We plan on sharing as many details about you and your background as you would like us to. We always knew that adoption was in our plans because both our families were built through adoption. Finding out that were not biologically able to have children helped make that decision even easier. We cannot wait to add another child to our family!

Child Care Plans

Melissa will stay with our children during the week because she works Friday-Sunday. She feels very lucky to have this work schedule so she can be at home with the children. Brian's mother will watch our child until he gets home from work on Friday. Brian comes home for lunch most days and spends time with us during the day sometimes.

Views on Parenting, Education & Discipline

We try to raise happy and well-adjusted children. We instill in them a love for God and good morals. We hope to give them the tools to help them make it through life. We do not pressure them to do certain things and let them decide for themselves with guidance and giving them a lot of opportunities to grow.

Adoption in Our Family

Adoption is familiar to both families. Melissa was adopted as an infant through a private agency. "I feel so blessed to be an adopted individual and love my biological mother for the gift she gave me by putting me up for adoption. I hope to help our child understand the gift of being an adoptee and what a blessing you are to them as well."

Family Life

Family time is very important to us. We like to go to the park and play games. We also like to take the kids out to dinner and movies as a special treat. Brian is the oldest of six children and the only biological child. Brian's family is close and sees each other at least once a week. Melissa's family is also close as sees each other as often as possible.

Religious Life

Our faith is very important to us. Jesus Christ is the most important person in our lives we try to follow the path he has for us. We try to show our girls how to be good Christians and good people.

Openness

We want to share pictures and letters with you. We would also love to meet you. We hope by you seeing pictures and getting letters you can see how much your child is loved.
