Kyle and Alyssa

You are the epitome of the definition above. We want you to know how selfless, loving, brave, and strong you are. Thank you for considering us to be a part of your baby's future.

Selfless: Concern more with the needs and wishes of others than with one's own.
Our Journey to Adopt

We have struggled to conceive for 4 years. In 2016, and after various tests, there were border-line tumors found on one of Alyssa's ovaries and surgery was recommended to remove it. Later on, more tumors were found on Alyssa's remaining ovary and on the outside of her uterus. In March 2019 Alyssa had a full hysterectomy making the dream of having biological children impossible. However, we are very thankful that all the tumors were benign.
Views on Openness

We are adopting because we want to be parents and we have SO much love to give and we want to be able to share it with your little one.

In the beginning, as we are figuring out how to be parents, we would love to send regular pictures and letters. Our hope is to be able to develop a great relationship with you.

We plan to be very open and honest with your child by sharing their adoption story.
Our Story

We met at a summer camp here in Missouri when we were 18. Then we reconnected months later and started dating long distance. Kyle’s father suggested he move closer to see "what Alyssa’s really like". We got married a few years in Springfield, MO and have been happily married for 7 years.

A Few of the things we love to do together are travel, fish, and spend time with friends and family. Every year we take a trip with our church to different states or countries.
A little about Kyle...

...written by Alyssa

Describing Kyle in only a few words is a hard thing to do. He is very loving, trustworthy, and comforting and would do anything for me. I couldn't imagine my life without him. He makes me want to be a better person.

I can always count on Kyle to make me laugh by dancing around the kitchen, singing, or making up stories.

Seeing the way he is with our nephews makes me very excited for our future children. He will be a great father and our children will be very loved.

Alyssa is a very loving person. Commitment comes to mind as a strong quality trait she possesses. This includes commitment to God, to me, her family, and so much more.

Alyssa is appreciative of all we have and are able to do. She is a natural nurturer and children love to be around her. Our two nephews, ages 4 and 2, can't enough of their Aunt "Sis". There is no doubt in my mind that Alyssa will be a wonderful mother.
We live at the end of a cul-de-sac on the outside of town. Our home has 3 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms on the first level with a full unfinished basement. We have a big fenced in backyard with a large garden where Kyle likes to spend time in the summer. There are several parks with playgrounds, walking trails, ponds to fish, and also an aquatic center just a few miles from our home.

We have one dog, her name is Monroe. She is a Craig's List special and is 5 years old. She is a dachshund/Chihuahua/terrier mix. Monroe is great around our little nephews even when they are a little rough. She is a very playful and loving dog.
Our Community

Our neighbors and community are very friendly and supportive of us.

We love our families very much and they have been SO supportive and encouraging through our journey from the beginning.

We have a great church family! Everyone is incredibly supportive and encouraging. We participate in many activities with our church. We like to get together with our church family for BBQ's, potlucks, game nights, bonfires, and our annual picnic where there is swimming, food, and water games.

Alyssa’s parents moved to Utah 5 years ago. We try to see them at least 4 times a year. My sister Brittany and her husband Brent live 5 miles from us with their two boys, Waylon and Sawyer. We usually get together at least one night a week for dinner and bbq's.

Most of Kyle’s family live in Florida with the exception of his mother and her husband, who live in Georgia. We enjoy spending Thanksgivings in Florida with my family near the beach as much as we are able.

Alyssa volunteered at a teen summer camp in Ghana, Africa. I was there for a little over 2 weeks and loved it!

Kyle works for Wells Fargo as an inside sales representative. Alyssa works as a dental assistant 3-4 days a week.

Alyssa enjoys baking cakes and other sweet treats.

Kyle loves to garden, hunt, and fish.
