

Jane, Jared, &
Naomi

Above all put on love, the bond of perfect unity.

Col. 3:14

Dear Birthparent(s),

We have yet to meet, but you are already the bravest person we know. Deciding to give birth and making an adoption plan are difficult decisions and we want you to know that we pray for you daily.

We plan to be very open in sharing your child's adoption story with him or her from the day they are born. She or he will know of your heroic decision that was made with so much love!

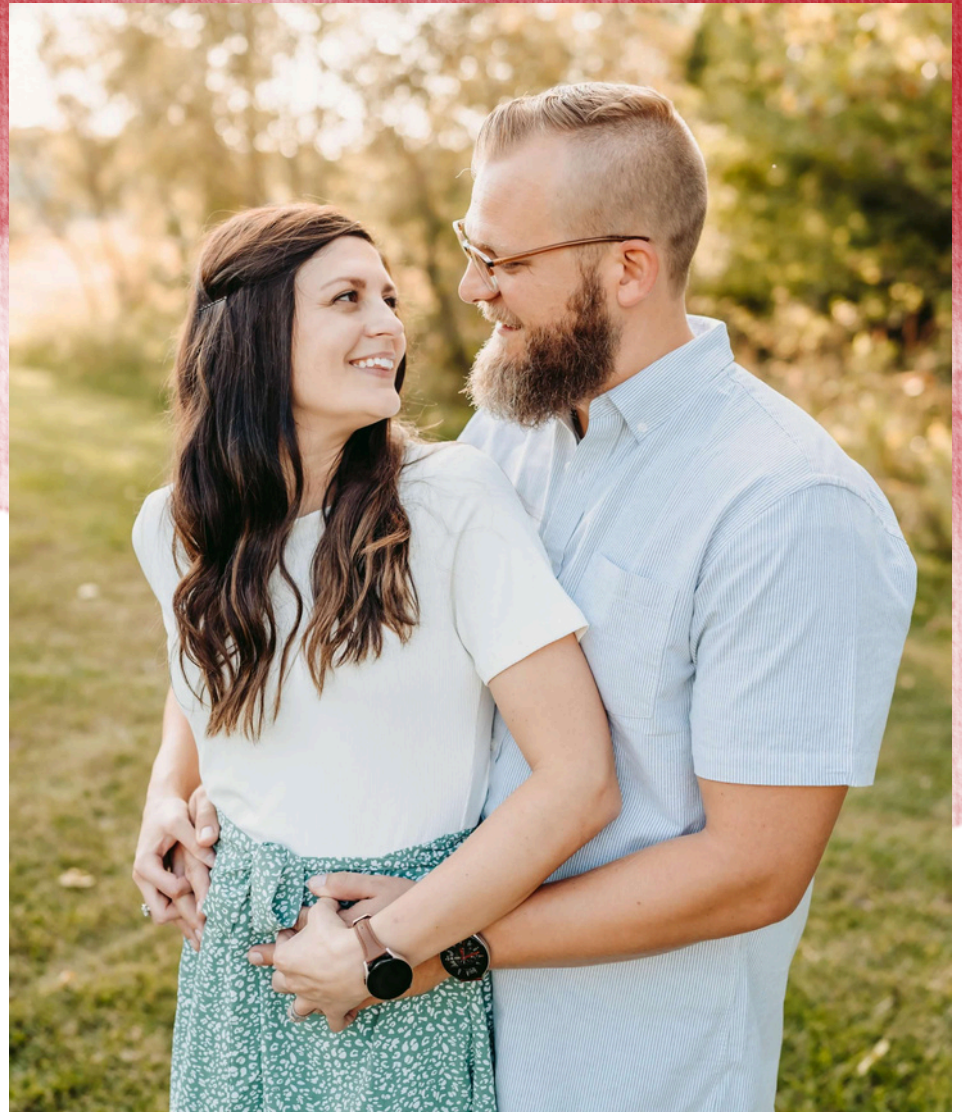

Please know that no matter what you choose, we wish you and your families all the best.

We are Jared, Jane, & Naomi and we thank you for taking time to learn more about our family.

Our Story...

We met in college, Jane always had a big crush on the tall, blonde basketball player! We dated for a few years and enjoyed hanging out at Taco Bell, long walks outdoors, and hanging out with friends.

Jared proposed at the state fair. He is not a flashy guy, so this made it even more special. We got married 12 years ago in a loft in downtown KC. It was a beautiful evening filled with family, friends, and a million hand-made paper flowers!

We are a fun loving, active couple who laugh as often as possible! Jesus has been the center of our marriage from day one.

Meet Jared!

- Worked for 13 years as an elementary school teacher & English Language Learner specialist. He interacts with children in a calm, respectful way. Even amidst chaos, he breaks the tension with humor & understanding.
- Now, he is a discipleship minister. Our church is family-first when it comes to work hours & time off.
- He enjoys watching sports with family and friends. He almost always smokes/grills for everyone!

Meet Jane!

- Worked for 5 years as a rehab nurse. Now is a nurse in an outpatient neurology office. This career change allows for family friendly hours and a flexible schedule.
- Loves to volunteer in the church nursery. She is filled with joy every time she interacts with the kids. Whether a crying baby or a scared toddler, her gentle, loving and silly nature make them feel right at home.
- Enjoys going out with friends and quality time with family. Also loves spending time outside playing and gardening.

Meet Naomi

- Sweet, compassionate, energetic 3-year old.
- Loves to pretend play, swinging at the park, and big trucks, and most of all, she loves playing with all of her baby dolls!
- Naomi was adopted at 2 weeks old. Her heart is so full of love for her first mom and big brother. We are all very close.

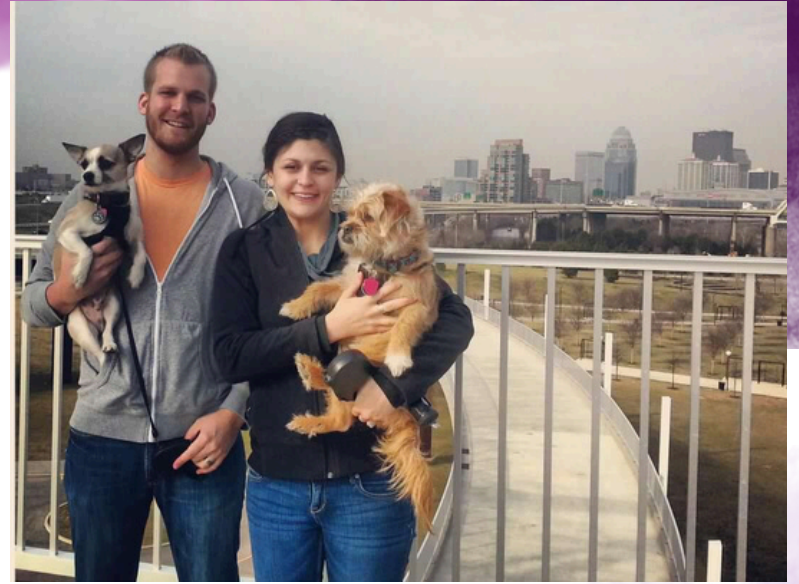

Our Journey

Our journey through infertility has been a difficult one, but has brought us closer together. With the support of each other, friends, family, church and most importantly Jesus Christ, we are ready for our journey of expanding our family again through adoption.

We decided to adopt because we want to be parents! We want to share our lives with a child and any biological family that are willing. We want to show the love that has been shown to us when God decided to adopt us into his own family.

Our Fur Babies...

Chance and Tucker are both small terriers we adopted about 12 years ago. We adopted Daisy from the shelter about 8 years ago. They are all very sweet animals that our daughter loves to play with!

Our Neighborhood

We own a 1.5 story, 3 bedroom home in a diverse neighborhood. We live close to our church which we attend every Sunday and host Bible Study every Wednesday. We are both passionate, Bible-believing Christians. We will seek to instill values such as generosity, courage and love into our kids!

The background of the image is a soft, abstract watercolor wash. It features a mix of light pink, peach, and cream colors, with some areas of slightly darker, more saturated red and orange, creating a gentle, textured effect. The colors blend into each other, giving it a painterly and warm appearance.

Thank you!
