

Jordan, Lauren, Everly & Elise

Dear Expectant or Birth Parent,

We are honored to have the opportunity to introduce ourselves. Although we have not yet met you or heard your story, we already have so much respect for you and the decisions you are facing. We cannot pretend to understand every emotion you may face, but hope and pray that you feel supported and cared for every step of the way.

We have been married for 7 years and have 2 daughters who bring so much joy and personality to our family. Jordan was adopted through LFCS as a baby and has always felt called to adopt someday. As we prayed over growing our family, adoption continued to be placed on our hearts and we feel deeply grateful for the possibility of welcoming another child into our family through adoption.

If you choose us, we hope to build an open, respectful and child-centered relationship. We want your child to always know their story, how deeply they are loved, and that their birth family will always be important to who they are as well as to our whole family.

Meet Jordan

Loyal, playful, patient
Loves board games, jiu jitsu, traveling, and languages (speaks Spanish, learning Japanese).
Medical ICU Nurse

Meet Lauren

Warm, empathetic, organized
Loves reading, baking, traveling, and trying new coffee shops.
Pediatric ICU Nurse

Meet Everly

Outgoing, energetic, kind hearted
Loves being outside and playing with friends.
The most loving big sister and a friend to everyone she meets.

Meet Elise

Curious, observant, lover of babies
Loves books, climbing and exploring.
Slow to warm up, but deeply affectionate once she knows you.

Our Life Together

Met and started dating in 2016
Engaged in 2018 at the top of Machu Picchu during a trip to Peru
Married in 2019 and now have 2 beautiful daughters

Our work schedules give us lots of time together as a family. We spend our days at the gym, park, library, or on play dates. We love going on little adventures to the zoo, aquarium, splash pad, or exploring new places. Jordan & Everly do jiu jitsu. Lauren loves reading and baking sourdough. As a family, we enjoy movies, books, being outside, traveling, and playing board games.

Reason for adopting

Adoption had always been on Jordan's heart. After 2 complicated pregnancies and a lot of discussion and prayer, we decided adoption was how we wanted to grow our family.

We have a beautiful relationship with Jordan's birth mother, Joy, and her family. That relationship has shown us how openness can give a child even more people who love them.

Philosophy of Openness

We hope to have a healthy, honest and open relationship with our child's birth family through pictures, updates, visits, and growing closer together over time.

Jordan feels that staying in contact with his birth mother and honest communication helped him to accept, understand, and appreciate his adoption story.

We will always be open with them about their story and who they are. They are always safe to ask questions, share feelings, and learn about every part of who they are.

Our Home and Church

We live in a ranch style home with a fenced in backyard. Our neighborhood is full of families. Kids are often outside riding bikes, scooters, playing basketball, or playing together. Our neighbors have become a second family and our kids play together often. We help each other with bus stop duty and are a village for each other. We have several great parks and a local library within a few minutes of our home. We also live near the Christian church we attend.

Nova

Nova is a 12 year old Siberian Husky with a big personality! Jordan adopted her as a puppy and she has been a part of the family ever since. She loves to "talk", howl along to sirens, and make us laugh. She is very gentle with our girls and neighborhood kids. She loves walks and snuggling on the couch.

Thank you for taking the time to get to know our family. We are grateful to be considered and hope these pages gave you a glimpse into our lives, and the kind of loving home we hope to offer a child.

We wish you peace, support and love as you make the decision that feels right for you and your child.